Take time to check, clean and share about STF prevention with your employees

Slips, Trips and Falls (STFs) have been the top cause of both major and minor injuries in workplaces since 2012. The number of STF-related injuries had increased by 15% from 2015 to 2020.

Companies can co-create safe workplaces by working together with their employees to set and fulfil an STF resolution to take time to check, clean and share good practices to minimise or eliminate STF hazards.

Accidents can occur when accessing or using workspaces, when getting up or down the steps, when walking up or down the slopes, or when one is distracted or tired. It is important to train your workers to identify STF hazards so that they can take actions to keep themselves safe.

Look out for these STF hazards in the workplace:

- Slippery areas
- Slopes

- Uneven areas
- Cluttered areas

Find out ways to address these hazardous areas to take care of your employees' safety on the STF Campaign webpage.
